A sum of Rs 5000 is proposed to be spent within the four remaining months of the year on subsidising deserving weavers. The source from which the charge has to be met is pointed out, the provision of Rs 5000 in the budget estimate of the Director of Industry & Commerce 1912-13 under 'Advances to weavers', which is now proposed to be transferred to the control of the Registrar of Co. The present proposal does not wholly supersede the previous reference on the subject. Instead of sanction being required for carrying out a definite scheme to take shape while being worked, definite proposals are now made —

1) to grant a loan to the weavers of Kunnathalli of 1000 Rs thro the Registrar of Co-operative Societies - the weavers having been convinced by personal observation at the Bangalore factory of the superior merits of the fly shuttle loom; and,

2) to establish a fly shuttle

It is proposed to advance to the weavers of Komarahalli through the Registrar of Cooperative Societies a sum of Rs 1000/- as a loan. From this it is presumed that the weavers will start a cooperative society and the loan will be given to that society. If that be so is not there a central Bank with assurance of substantial first help which should give such loans?

SIR,

I am directed to submit herewith, for very early orders of Government, copy of letter No. 1035 dated 23/24th January 1913, with copy of its enclosures, from the Secretary, Industries and Commerce Committee, forwarding copy of Resolution 1 of the Committee carried at their last meeting held on the 4th January 1913, to the effect that Government may be requested to grant a sum of Rs. 5000/- to the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to enable him to issue "Taccavi" advances to weavers in the current financial year.

2. A Special Sub-Committee consisting of Messrs: A. Chatterton M.A.Narayana Iyengar and M.Chengiah Chetty, considered the subject and have made several suggestions which are contained in the Proceedings of the Third Meeting of the Sub-Committee. It will be seen therefrom that the Sub Committee is of opinion (1) that the Registrar of Co-operative Societies should be responsible for the grants of advances to the weavers, the work of organising demonstrations of improved appliances in suitable Weaving Centres being left to Mr. Chatterton, (2) that ordinarily such advances should be made through the agency of a Co-operative Society and only to weavers who are likely to adopt improved appliances or improved methods of working (3) and that a sum of Rs 5000/- may be allotted for being given as advances during the current year 1912-1913.

Letter No. 1035 dated 23/24th January 1913, from the Secretary, Industries and Commerce Committee, to the Provisional Secretary, Mysore Economic Conference, Bangalore.

I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of Resolution I of the Committee for Industries and Commerce at their last meeting held on the 4th January 1913 to the effect that Government may be recommended to grant a sum of Rs 5000 to the Registrar of Co-operative Socities to enable him to issue "Taccavi" advances to weavers in the current financial year.

As contributions towards the solution of the problems of improving the condition of hand-loom weavers and inducing them to adopt modern appliances, two papers were submitted to the Committee at their 14th meeting, one by Mr. Chatterton and the other by Mr. Chengiah Chetty. Mr. Chatterton advocated the establishment of weavers' unions consisting of 10 or 20 members who might be advanced loans up to a limit of Rs. 2000 on the joint security of all the members as an inducement to adopt improved appliances. Mr. Chengiah Chetty believed that much useful work could be done if trained maistries travelled in weaving centres, demonstrating the advantages of the fly-shuttel loom. The Committee constituted Messrs Chatterton, Narayana Iyengar, and Chengiah Chetty into a Special Sub Committee to further consider the question of Taccavi Advances to weavers, and the methods of popularising Improved appliances and submit a report.

The Sub Committee met three times and the proceedings of its meetings were submitted with a Note by Mr. Chatterton at the last meeting of the Industries and Commerce Committee. The main recommendations of the Sub Committee are that the Special Adviser should undertake to demonstrate the utility of improved appliances to weavers and that loans should be granted through the Registrar of Co-operative Socities to the weavers who are willing to adopt modern methods. The Special Adviser has promised to give effect to the recommendations of the Sub Committee as soon as a Department of Industries is created. The Committee have therefore resolved to apply to Government for funds to the Registrar of Co-operative Socities. I am directed to request that Government

Mr. Changiah Chetty's Note on the Methods of popularising fly-shuttle hand-looms:--

In this connection, Mr. Chatterton remarked that Mr. Chengiah Chetty's proposal were exactly similar to those which he recommended to the Madras Government for peripatetic weaving demonstrations, and naturally emerge in his present application to the Committee for a sum of Rs. 50,000 for making Taccavi advances to Weavers' Unions to enable them to have easy access to fly-shuttle looms, in the place of the primitive appliances they were now employing So far as he knew, the weavers were a most improvident and intractable class of people, and it was very hard to get them to adopt improved methods of weaving unless our recommendations were backed by substantial financial aid. The proposed -- Weavers' Unions would consist of from 10 to 20 members who would be required to collectively give security for the advances made, so that, even in the event of one or two running away, others would be responsible for the proper observances of the terms of the agreement.

Mr. Narayana Iyengar remarked that the Co-operative Societies for weavers established in several centres had effectually met the demand for financial assistance in these places.

Resolution 3.

1.Mr.Chatterton,
2.Mr.Narayana Iyengar,
3.Mr.Chengiah Chetty with the Secretary as Convener.

The Committee resolved that a Sub Committee consisting of the gentlemen whose names are noted in the margin should be appointed to further consider the question of Taccavi advances to weavers and the methods of popularising improved appliances.

NOTE.

The weavers in Mysore are generally badly off and their condition has not improved of late years. The distress caused by rising prices for food stuffs in their case has not been mitigated by a partial or equivalent rise in wages. The men live from hand to mouth and ply their trade on capital borrowed at rates of interest varying from 30 to 36 per cent. Much could be done to improve their position if (1) they were to work with fly-shuttle looms, (2) they were to use hand warping mills and (3) the rates of interest at which they borrow money were greatly reduced.

To secure these conditions, I suggest that Government may be moved to grant loans to weavers at 6¼ % per annum on condition that the weavers take to the fly-shuttle loom. Weavers' Unions should be formed of not less than 20 men, all of whom should be eligible for financial aid and all of whom should be jointly and severally responsible for all loans contracted by members of the Union. The maximum amount to be advanced to any union may at the ouset be limited to Rs. 2,000 and in the first instance the total amount of loans made to Weavers' Unions should not exceed Rs. 50,000. Each Weavers' Union should possess, either collectively or through an individual member, a modern type of hand warping mill and that unless the same is freely used by the Union the grants of loans on easy terms should be withdrawn. In the administration of these loans, the District Committees might very well be employed.

out to different places in the districts for demonstrating the use and advantage of the new method.

If the Chairman is willing to entrust the whole work to me and place funds at my disposal, I shall go into the question more fully and elaborate a scheme for spreading the knowledge of the new method of weaving throughout the Province.

I am told that a big factory is to be established in Bangalore on commercial basis. In my humble opinion, it is not likely to be successful. I would suggest the working of the improved methods in warping, sizing, reeling, &c., in any of the factories of a sowcar. If they are found profitable, I have no doubt the other weavers will take steps to introduce the same in their own establishment.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SUB COMMITTEE.

The Sub Committee for the consideration of the question of making Taccavi advances to weavers and, the proposals for popularising the use of the fly-shuttle loom, sat at about 1. p.m. on Monday the 18th November 1912, with Mr. Alfred Chatterton,C.I.E., in the Chair.

Mr. M.A. Narayana Iyengar read out for the information of the Sub Committee portions of his report on Co-operative Societies for 1910-11, showing the work that had actually been done to improve the condition of the weavers. The Societies that had been founded hitherto were banking - concerns which furnished the needed - capital to the poor weavers and the Co-operative Society at Mysore had - done most work. Both the Societies that had succeeded and those that had failed, showed that under present conditions Societies for weavers could only succeed if established as banking institutions on Co-operative lines. The Society started at Saligram with improved fly-shuttle looms failed for want of expert advice. The failure of the Society started by a few -- brahmins at T.Narsipur with an imported weaver population indicated that help was to be rendered where the weavers were settled and shifting them was inadvisible. Again the Society at -- Harihar where a capitalist lent the money failed because it was not started on Co-operative lines and the weavers had put no money into it. The two essential improvements that were needed to better the condition of the weavers were (1) Improved weaving appliances (2) Adequate financial assistance with better business methods.

Mr. Chatterton agreed with Mr. Narayana Iyengar. As regards improved appliances, he said the need to get the weaver to change his antiquated methods and habits of work was urgent. It was essential to increase the productivity of his labour and more capital would be locked up in his warp and weft than was at present the case. The warp should be at least 120 yards long and to get this a warping mill was necessary. The introduction of the fly-shuttle in the case of plain cloths would increase the productivity of the loom by about 50 per cent. The Jacquard looms could weave ornamental bordered cloths. They could be worked up by one man and the patterns could easily be changed. The advantages to be be derived by the introduction of - these appliances would be, (1) increased output in the bulk and variety of cloth woven and (2) considerable reduction in the working expenses.

But the weavers will not be induced to adopt these appliances unless the advice was backed up by financial aid. Demonstrations of their utility have had no effect. The Weaving School at Dodballapur established several - years ago has had absolutely no influence on the large weaver population of the town. Material assistance in money seemed to be the only means.

A Co-operative Society may be started with the object of introducing improved appliances in a weaving centre. A weaving expert provided with a warping mill, a fly-shuttle and Jacquard loom should be attached to the Society. The Society should buy the yarn and make it into warps itself. The duty of the weaver provided with an improved loom for which necessary financial aid will have been given, would be to prepare the cloths which he may either sell himself or give it to the Society for sale. It seemed to him such a Society should be started on the railway line in order to have the fullest commercial facilities. Bangalore - and Dodballapur both appeared to - possess all the conditions required for such an experimental Co-operative Society.

In the course of the discussion, the figures in the Census Report of 1911, reporting a decrease in the weaver population by about 59 per cent in the decade were referred to. Mr. Chatterton was of opinion that the figures was not correct. It was decided that the Secretary should write to the Census Superintendent on the matter.

The principle conclusions arrived at by the Sub Committee were as follows:--

(1) It was necessary that the weavers should be induced to adopt improved weaving appliances,

(2) That the Department of Industries should employ expert assistants to demonstrate the usefulness of the appliances and teach the weavers to take to them.

(3) That improved methods of finance were quite as necessary as modern appliances in promoting the economic welfare of the weavers.

(4) That this branch of the work could best be carried by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies.

(5) That Government should pay for the services of the expert from the Department of Industries and provide set of modern weaving machinery for demonstration purposes.

(6) That Government should subsidize the Co-operative Societies by loans granted through the Registrar under orders adapted with suitable modifications from Notification No.Fl. 6641-B.48-06, dated the 20th June 1906 and Government Order dated the 7th December 1906.

It was decided that further details regarding the schemes and the final selection of the places where the experimental societies may first be started may be discussed at the next meeting of the Sub Committee.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SUB COMMITTEE.

The Second Meeting of the Sub Committee for the consideration of the question of making Taccavi Advances to Weavers, with a view to induce them to adopt the fly-shuttle looms and other improved weaving applicances, was held on the 6th December 1912, at 3.p.m. with Alfred Chatterton, Esq., C.I.E. in the Chair.

The Proceedings of the first meeting of the Sub Committee were read and confirmed. The Secretary said that no reply had been received from the Census Superintendent to the inquiry as to the causes for the decrease of nearly 59 per cent in the weaver population. He suggested that the figures given in the Sub-heads under "Textiles" as compared with the total, appeared to show that in totalling up the figures under Sub-head under "Cotton spinning, sizing and weaving" a large omission had been made.

Mr. Chatterton went over the resolutions that had been passed at the last meeting. He explained the present equipment of the weaving factory in Bangalore, and said that before the end of the year, the factory would have been completely equipped for demonstration purposes. The members of the --

Co-operative Society proposed to be started could be trained at the factory. The factory would pay wages at market rate for the work done. It was advisible that the poorer class of the cotton weavers should first be taken in hand.

The men that were trained could be supplied with fly-shuttle slay by the Co-operative Society which might recover the price by instalments. The slay could be taken away from those who failed to use them or pay their price.

Mr. Narayana Iyengar said that the weavers should be convened in a meeting, and asked what they had to say to our proposals for the improvement of their general condition. They should be told that we were prepared to help them with money and the best technical advice. Having had their opinion on the subject, we may set about considering the advisability of starting a co-operative society in Bangalore or otherwise. It would be better to request the Deputy Commissioner to convene the meeting.

With this suggestion on the part of Mr. Narayana Iyengar, both Messrs. Chatterton and Chengiah Chetty concurred, and the meeting then dispersed.

The Proceedings of the second meeting of the Sub Committee which had been circulated in advance were taken as read and confirmed.

The letter to the Secretary from the Census Superintendent dated the 7th December 1912, explaining the -- figures in "Section VII Selected Occupations 1901, 1911" page 214 of the Census Report of 1911 attributing a decrease of nearly 59 per cent within the decade, of persons engaged in "Cotton spinning, sizing and weaving" was placed on the Table. The Superintendent says that a comparison of selected groups between the figures of the two censuses is beset with difficulties owing to the different principles of classification. As according to him, group 22 (33,673), (cotton spinning, sizing and weaving) if combined with group 31 (44,751) of the Census of 1911, (Insufficiently described textile industries) may afford a more realiable basis of comparison, the number of weavers in 1911 may be regarded as 78,424 as against 83,469 in 1901.

Mr. Narayana Iyengar explained the result of the meetings he had held of the weavers in Bangalore. He had convened two meetings of the weavers on the 16th and 18th December 1912 in the house of Mustan Sab near Dodpet, Bangalore. About 100 weavers attended each meeting.

In his opinion, the Bangalore weavers were generally a richer class than usual. They weave valuable silk and cotton saddies worth Rs. 20 to 30 each. They are not anxious for the introduction of fly-shuttle looms or improved appliances immediately.

They, however, need credit. They wanted a Co-Operative Society to be started. But they have since developed a split in their camp. This has necessitated the postponement of further action for the present.

The following memo of final suggestions were adopted:--

1. Mr. Chatterton will organise demonstrations of improved appliances in suitable weaving centres.

2. If the demonstrations succeed weaving schools should be located there for at least six months.

3. Taccavi Advances may be -- given only where improved appliances are adopted by the weavers.

4. The demonstrations may take place in localities where there are Co-Operative Societies in the first instance.

5. Mr. Chatterton need not wait for the formation of Co-Operative Societies in any localities before holding his demonstrations.

6. Taccavi Advances may be given to weavers only through a Co-operative Society generally; the terms of Taccavi advances being decided by the Registrar.

7. A sum of Rs. 5,000 may be allotted for being given as advances during the current year.

8. Mr. Chatterton may be given funds for organising 3 demonstration sets.

9. Co-Operative Societies for Weavers exist in the following placoc:-

Melkote,
Mysore,
Grama
Molkalmuru

Mr. Chatterton may demonstrate improvement there.

10. Industrial Schools for weaving exist in the following places:-

Chiknayakanhalli,
Chitaldrug,
Dodballapur
Holenarsipur
Melkote
Molkalmuru

The Registrar may try to start Co-Operative Societies for weavers in them.

The Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharajah of Mysore, Department of Industries and Commerce, B a n g a l o r e .

SIR,

In reference to G.O. No. G.4231-78/G.M.5512-115, dated the 30th January 1913, I have the honour to address you respecting the grant of Rs. 5,000/- for recoverable advances to weavers.

(2) It appears to me that Government allotted this sum on the recommendations of the Weaving Sub Committee, which were formulated at their final meeting held on the 28th December 1912, and submitted to Government by the Secretary of the Industries and Commerce Committee in his letter No. 1035, dated the 24th January 1913. As it appeared to me to be impracticable to make advances in accordance with the terms of the Resolutions of the Sub Committee, the matter was again brought up before the Sub Committee, and I forward a copy of the Proceedings of a meeting which was held on the 19th March 1913./ The important point to which the attention of Government may be directed is that it is now proposed to give Taccavi advances to weavers who promise to adopt improved appliances after they have received the Taccavi advances: if we have to wait till they adopt the approved appliances before Taccavi advances are given, it is almost certain that nothing will be done.

(3) I now propose to advance to the weavers of Komarahalli, -- through the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, a sum of Rs. 1,000/- as a loan, and to establish there a fly-shuttle loom demonstration party. The weavers have satisfied themselves by a visit to the Weaving Factory at Bangalore that the fly shuttle loom will suit their requirements , and orders have already been placed for ten slays. The Sub Committee have expressed the opinion--which I endorse-- that part of the grant of Rs. 5,000/- may be utilised to establish three demonstration parties to work in villages, where Weaving Co-operative/Credit Societies have been established. The arrangements will be made in conjunction with the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, and I have the honour to request that Government will be pleased to sanction the modification in the method of dealing with this allotment, which I now propose.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Director of Industries and Commerce.

Mr. Chatterton explained that a sum of Rs.5,000 was provided in the current year's budget of the Department of Industries and Commerce towards granting recoverable advances to weavers. The provision was apparently made in accordance with the recommendations of the Sub Committee that considered the question of Takkavi advances to weavers; but instead of making a grant to the Registrar of Co-operative Societies as desired by the Sub Committee, the Government had included it in the budget of his department. Mr. Narayana Iyengar had requested for the grant of a loan of Rs. 1,000 out of this amount to a Co-operative Society of weavers at Chamarajpet and the Sub Committee met to consider and arrive at definite conclusions as to how these loans were to be administered.

After the submission of the report of the Sub Committee, he had carefully considered the whole problem of improved hand-loom weaving and it appeared to him that the introduction of improved appliances was directly dependent on increased facilities for marketing the cloths woven. ~~The Fly-shuttle loom is more readily worked and the weaver found a ready market~~ A small hand-loom factory in the Northern Circars had far more effect in the - - spread of fly-shuttle weaving than ~~any~~ more elaborate ventures in other parts of the Madras Presidency. It was simply because the cloths woven, Kingsbore Loom is more readily exported and ~~the way~~ and the weaver found a ready market for all the goods he turned out. Within recent years the export trade in Singapore handle had gone up by 30 or 40 lakhs and the number of fly-shuttle hand-looms in that part of the Presidency was estimated to be about 20,000.

If an attempt were made in Coore to find a ready sale for the goods of the hand-loom weaver, the increased out-turn that hand-loom fitted with a fly- shuttle slay would render its introduction a comparatively easy task.

It should not be very difficult to arrange for the sale of goods made by the hand-loom weaver. The sum of Rs.5,000 granted by Government may be used to obtain yarn of the suitable kinds on credit which may be advanced to the hand-loom weavers and arrangements may be made for marketing the cloths woven by them.

Mr. Narayana Iyengar feared that the ignorance and conservative habits of the weaver would offer great obstacles to the introduction of any such measure, at any rate, before he was familiarised with fly-shuttle looms by actual demonstration. The Sub Committee had already made certain recommendations regarding the employment of three sets of demonstration parties in the important weaving centres of the State. The demonstration parties had not as yet been organised. He believed that the weavers of Somarchalli could be induced to adopt fly-shuttle looms, if their utility was first demonstrated to them. It was on this ground he had proposed the grant of loan to them. Both Messrs. Balasundaram Iyer and Chandrasekhara Shetty agreed that demonstration parties showing the actual working and increased outturn of the fly-shuttle looms should first visit the centres of the weaving industry before any improvements in the methods of weaving could be expected.

The Chairman said that he could arrange to send a factory well acquainted with the working of fly-shuttle hand-looms to Somarchalli in a month.

After some discussion, the final conclusions of the Sub Committee arrived at are as follows:--

...) A sum of Rs.1,000 may be given to Mr. Narayana Iyengar for advances to weavers at Komerahalli, where the conditions for introduction of fly-shuttle looms are reported to be favourable.

(2) Mr. Chatterton should organise a demonstration set for showing the working of fly-shuttle looms to the weavers of Komerahalli

(3) That the conclusions arrived at by the Sub Committee in their meeting on the 20th December 1912, and the rules under which the loans were proposed to be advanced may be requested to be definitely approved by Government with the alteration noted below:--

(1) In para 3 of memo of ~~of~~ final suggestion the words " the - - weavers adopt or agree to adopt improved appliances" may be substituted after the words "only where" instead of "improved appliances are adopted by the weavers". The para as modified reads as follows:--

" Takkavi advances may be given only where the weavers adopt or agree to adopt improved appliances".

4 (1) That a weaver of Komerahalli may be sent for by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies not only to give the necessary information of the sort of cloth woven at Komerahalli but also to see the experimental weaving factory at Bangalore.

SIR,

In continuation of my letter No. 559, dated the 3rd February 1913, about Taccavi Advances to weavers, I have the honour to submit herewith copy of letter No. 1826, dated the 8th April 1913, from the Secretary, Industries and Commerce Committee, forwarding a copy of Proceedings of the Fourth meeting of the Sub-Committee for the grant of advances to weavers.

2. The Secretary states that the Sub-Committee request the definite approval of Government to their conclusions as modified at their last meeting as well as to the rules under which the advances are proposed to be made. Letter No. 1826, dated 8th April 1913, from the Secretary Industries and Commerce Committee, to the Secretary, Mysore Economic Conference, Bangalore.

In continuation of this office letter No. 1035, dated the 24th January 1913, recommending the grant of a sum of Rs 5,000 to the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to enable him to issue Taccavi Advances to weavers, I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of the Proceedings of the 4th meeting of the Sub-Committee for the grant of advances to weavers. The Sub-Committee would request the definite approval of Government to their conclusions arrived at in their meeting held on the 28th December 1912, as modified at their last meeting, as well as tc the rules under which the advances are proposed to be made. A copy of the conclusions as modified is herewith forwarded. The change now suggested would enable the grant of loans to weavers, who agree to adopt improved appliances after their utility has been demonstrated to them. The Sub-Committee do not think it necessary to dwell on the absolute necessity for the previous demonstration of improved weaving methods before our weavers could be expected to adopt them.

They are very hopeful that the plan now proposed by them combining as it does, a successful demonstration of new methods coupled with the financial aid that might be necessary to adopt them may, if energetically carried through, help towards a satisfactory solution of the problems connected with the weaving industry in the State. It is understood that the Director of Industries has addressed a separate letter to Government to obtain orders in the matter of the other recommendations of the Sub-Committee that, out of the sum of Rs. 5,000 sanctioned in his budget to the grant of advances to weavers, a loan of Rs 1,000 should be granted to the weavers at Komerahalli, who are reported to be willing to use fly-shuttle looms and that part of the balance should be utilised in organising three demonstration parties to popularise improved methods of weaving in the State.
